

WORDS LIKE MAGIC CONGRESS TO ACT

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 16.—President Wilson was hopeful today that the administration trust legislative program will be passed so Congress may adjourn in July. According to officials close to the President it is believed that there is no prospect of any organization opposition to the trust legislation by Republicans in the Senate and that a filibuster is improbable.

The President expects the railroad securities and the omnibus anti-trust bill to be reported out of committee within the next two weeks. President Wilson's attitude against any adjournment without enactment of trust bills had an immediate effect at the Capitol. The leaders began hurrying work on the appropriation bills and tuning up legislative machinery all along the line. Most of the Senators are eager for midsummer adjournment. Democratic Leader Kern said he thought the program could be disposed of so Congress could adjourn before August 1, and expected no opposition from the Republicans.

EIGHT DIE IN CAVE-IN

By Associated Press.
Paris, June 16.—Several more buildings collapsed in various parts of Paris today owing to subsidences of the soil caused by yesterday's terrific storm, and a number of persons were injured.

The list of known dead today was officially given as eight, but as more persons were reported missing, the search of the debris was continued. The courtyard of a hotel fell in today, but there was no casualties. In another locality the walls of a building, under construction, fell, and two workmen were badly injured.

TREATIES ON BOARDS

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 16.—The Nicaraguan and Colombian treaties were discussed today at a cabinet meeting. Secretary Bryan will lay them before the Senate Foreign Relations committee tomorrow. He said he expected both to be ratified.

The Nicaraguan treaty proposed payment of $3,000,000 by the United States for a canal route across Nicaragua and for naval bases. The Colombian treaty proposes payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia for the partition of Panama.

ADMINISTRATION MUST FAVOR LAW TO OUST BOOZE

By Associated Press.
Clinton, Mo., June 16.—"The liquor question can be settled only by the three great branches of the government, legislative, judicial and executive, combining for its dissolution," said James H. Woertendyke, of Los Angeles, in an address to the national conference of leaders and workers of the Prohibition party here today. "A law, to be effective, must be administered by an administration favorable to it," he said.

Bloomington, Ill., June 16.—With business suspended and the city draped in mourning, Bloomington today paid final honors to former Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson. The body lay in state in the rotunda of the court house for two hours while the thousands filed past. Burial was made in Bloomington cemetery and was private.

SMITH MAKES UGLY CHARGES

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 16.—Charges that the United States kept its marines in Nicaragua to influence the recent presidential election and that the state department has been acting in the interest of American bankers, contained in a resolution introduced today by Senator Smith, of Michigan, were referred to the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

The resolution charges that the State department, through its control of Nicaraguan customs houses, has forced the republic to redeem at par, $6,250,000 of bonds issued by Zelaya, later repudiated, and bought in at about 25 per cent of their face value by American bankers interested in Nicaraguan finances.

PARACHUTE SHOT FROM COMPRESSED AIR GUN MAY SAVE THE LIVES OF AVIATORS WHO FALL

You read almost every day about fatalities to air men, particularly abroad. You have often wondered why a safety device had not been invented to save aviators from the constant peril of the sky. Such a device has been invented by George Prenzel, an Englishman, and is here shown at its first trial. The device is simply a parachute which is shot from a compressed air gun attached to the seat of an aeroplane. It was tried out from the rear of an auto, being shot into the air to demonstrate how quickly it would open, thus saving the aviator from a plunge.

By Associated Press.
Athens, Greece, June 16.—Refugees from Asia Minor brought reports today of a massacre by the Turks of 100 Greeks, including priests, old men and children, in the town of Phokia, 25 miles northwest of Smyrna.

The town, according to official reports, was invaded by a horde of armed men who looted and then set fire to all of the buildings. They are said to have been assisted by the Turkish police.

The inhabitants, most of whom were Greeks, fled, leaving property behind them and 3,800 have reached Salonika. They declare that the bodies of the massacred people were thrown into wells. The refugees, many of whom were suffering from wounds, were in a state of starvation on their arrival.

BASE BALL IN TANGLE

By Associated Press.

Chicago, June 16.—Assurance from lawyers that by giving a club ten days' notice of a determination to leave it, a player could legally abrogate his contract, has led more than forty members of the National and American league teams to apply for positions in the Federal league, according to President Gilmore of the Federals.

Some time ago Gilmore gave the clubs of his league permission to take any players from the older leagues they could get, and the result is that several have accepted the terms of the new league. Among them is Hal Chase, whose desertion of the Chicago Americans for the Buffalo Federals was practically assured today.

The six-mile route from Windsor Castle to the course was lined with policemen.

EXTRA SESSION TO REDUCE TAX

By Associated Press.

Columbus, June 15.—Governor Cox today called the members of the State Tax Commission to his office to confer on the subject of calling a special session of the legislature, to meet probably the middle of July, to reduce the state tax levy and legislate on other tax matters. The session is expected to last from one to three days.

MOVE TO REDUCE 1914 STATE LEVY

Gox May Call Special Session
Of the Legislature.

MATTER UNDER CONSIDERATION

Thought by State Officials That No Reduction Can Be Made Without Legislative Enactment—State Duplicate Increased $1,000,000,000 Through Operation of the Warnes Tax Law.

Columbus, O., June 16.—Because it is expected that the grand tax duplicate of the state will be increased approximately $1,000,000,000 through the operation of the Warnes tax law, Governor Cox is considering the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature to reduce the 1914 state levy, which was made by the last legislature.

Upon advice of the governor, State Auditor Donahey has sent out circular letters to county auditors, requesting them to hold in abeyance the state levy which has been certified to them for collection until further notice. It is known that the governor has asked Attorney General Hogan concerning the question of reducing the levy, but it is thought that no reduction can be made without legislative enactment. Therefore, in order to secure a reduction, the legislature would have to be called into extra session to make the reduction.

The state levy for 1914, as fixed by the legislature, is .964 of a mill. On the basis of the 1913 duplicate, which is $6,681,059,158, the 1914 levy would produce $6,420,497. With the $1,000,000,000 increase to the duplicate this levy would produce almost $1,000,000 more. The legislature had not counted on such an increase being made to the duplicate or it would have made a smaller levy, it is said.

The governor has asserted many times that he is anxious to see the people receive the reward of a smaller tax rate by reason of the Warnes tax law, and for this reason it is thought that he will call the legislators together to make the reduction unless some other means of bringing about the reduction can be worked out.

The special session is expected to be called early in July, so advantage of the laws which may be passed can be taken this year when budget commissions meet in August to fix the rates. Because of the

STREETS OF PARIS CAVE IN

Paris, June 16.—The bodies of a dozen or more persons, engulfed by cave-ins that followed a terrific thunderstorm, were drawn into the sewers of the St. Lazare quarter. Rains burst the conduit, undermined streets and houses, and big patches of thoroughfares have dropped away. The number of deaths or the extent of the damage is unknown. The Metropolitan underground railway is flooded and traffic has been suspended. Gas mains, telephone wires and the electrical supply have been cut off. Policemen are exploring the sunken streets for bodies.

A sewer burst alongside the subway in the Rue di Rivoli, putting it out of commission. Another burst in the Rue Boissy-D'Anglais, carrying away many feet of the pavement and flooding the new subway line under the Place de la Concorde. The property damage is enormous.

Every hour adds fresh reports of the great havoc wrought by the storm, both in Paris and the surrounding districts, which is described as the worst in the memory of Parisians.

ELECTRIC ROADS SHOW INCREASE OF $5,000,000

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, June 16.—Electric street, suburban and interurban railways increased in value only 2.8 per cent this year over their value of last year for taxation purposes, according to the report of the state tax commission made public today. The total valuation for these roads for 1914 is $145,476,000, as compared with $140,641,110 total as the 1913 value. Ravages of the flood which necessitated extensive repairs and great financial drain on most roads in the state is given by the tax commission as the reason for the slight increase.

The greatest valuation was given the Cleveland railway, $22,752,730. Other large valuations are: Ohio Electric railway, $13,953,640; Cincinnati Traction company, $18,760,400; Columbus Railway and Light company, $12,464,700; Northern Ohio Traction and Light company, $14,039,850; Toledo Railway and Light company, $8,896,950.

He will also join Colonel Rogers and party on a big game expedition outside the reserve, making part of the trip in a canoe.

LIFE IN THE LONG AGO.

When Huts Were Homes and Beds Were Shakedown of Straw.

For centuries the common people of England made their home in wooden huts of one room. When a family increased in numbers or wealth another hut was built beside it, or, rather, a lean-to was added and then another and another, as need required.

Sometimes they followed a straight line. At other times they were built out from the central hut at various angles. The roofs of these huts were thatched. An opening was left in the center for the smoke to escape. The fire was always built in a hollow in the center of the room. Beds were made of straw. Often they were merely shakedown in the corner. Occasionally the straw was held in a little frame resembling the ribs of a ship.

Houses built by Saxon knights were much more pretentious. They were big halls, like the Roman atrium, with a lofty roof thatched with slate or wood shingles. The floor was of hard clay. In the middle was a great fire of dry wood. The thin, acid smoke from the fire escaped through an opening in the roof directly above the hearth.

Round the fire were long benches, on which hearthsmen and visitors sat when not fighting or at work, and talked and drank the hours through. The tables were long boards on trestles. At night the floor was strewn with straw, and, like the less prosperous folk, host and visitors slept together.—Youth's Companion.

Mules and War.

Along all the frontiers of the world wherever there is a war there is a demand for the mule. Compared with him the much vaunted war horse is a vanishing figure of the past. His strength, his sureness of foot, his wariness of eye, his ability to endure hardship and hard work on little food and with little care, have made him invaluable as a campaigner, whether in deserts or mountains. The mule has seen the camel and the elephant disappear from armies. He may see the horse vanish. He has seen the motorcycle and the motorcar come in. He may see the aeroplanes numbered by thousands. But it is not likely he will ever see himself superseded in his own line of work. There may be mules without war, but probably never a war without mules.—New York World.

Congress and the Debates

Members of the National Congress, both in the House of Representatives and in the Senate, are becoming restless over the long drawn out session and openly expressing their desire that Congress adjourn and permit the members to go home.

That's right; they have a right to become restless. The present session is tedious to both members and to the public. It is "getting on the nerves" of the public as well as on the nerves of the members who must attend the sessions.

Perhaps, though, if Congress is kept at the grind until the necessary legislation is enacted, the members will learn that the practice of indulging in long drawn out debates is unprofitable and annoying to them as it is to the executive and the people who demand that needed legislation be enacted.

Some of the Senators seem not to have learned that the agencies for manufacturing public sentiment are not so powerful as they once were, and that debate and oratory of interminable length—drawn out long after every vital point of the issue under consideration has been presented, pro and con—is unavailing to change a demand of the people for action into a consent to non-action for the sake of stopping the talk.

The people have long since learned that talk—nothing but talk—is cheap. In these days the senators and representatives who act and act promptly are the ones who receive credit at the hands of the people.

Except in a few isolated instances men are not kept in Congress by their constituents merely because they are good public speakers.

Whether their actions are such as entitle them to be retained in Congress is, in most cases determinative of election results.

The old members who have been returned, time and time again by their constituents in the hope that the district will gain recognition under the rigid rules of seniority which have so long obtained in Congress, are more than any others, responsible for the perpetuation of this nonsensical practice of long debates.

If the members of Congress want to adjourn and come home, they have it in their own power to do so. It would not take long to enact—or at least to act finally upon—every one of the matters on the legislative program of the present administration.

Just as soon as Congress completes the work it should do there is no reason why the members should remain in Washington and Congress can complete the work just as soon as one of two things occur—either the old timers become cognizant of the fact that it is no longer possible to talk a proposal to death or some rule is adopted limiting the length of debate.

It is high time that the present Congress concluded its labors. Everyone is agreed on that and no one will be found to express sorrow when an adjournment is taken, provided the work is done.

Poetry For Today

"KNEE-DEEP IN JUNE."

I remember, I remember, when the snow was on the ground
I was tickled, greatly tickled, when a nice warm spot I found.
With a feeling of contentment I would fondly hug the stove—
Ay, from the dear old inglenook I never cared to rove.
But I had to! Yes, I had to! With reluctance I would go
To the cellar for the shovel—with the shovel shovel snow!
'Tis even so that great and small to circumstances must bow—
But things are very different, Ay, things are very different,
Now!

I remember, I remember, when I wrestled with the frost
That had wrestled with the water pipes and wrestled at my cost;
And I had to get a plumber who, according to the rules,
Would come to view the wreckage, then go back and get his tools;
After which he'd softly solder and a lot of time he'd kill.
Caring nothing for the murder—'twas included in the bill.
That is why my face is wrinkled and quite frosty is my pow—
But things are very different, Ay, things are very different,
Now!

I remember, I remember, and it harkens up my soul,
How I fed the blooming furnace with a thousand tons of coal;
How the ashes that I lifted caused a very nasty cough,
While the ashman made a fortune when he came to haul 'em off;
And the clinkers on my character left many ugly scars—
For one has to do some cussin when one tries to clear the bars.
And I'd smear myself with coal dust when I wiped my manly brow—
But things are very different, Ay, things are very different,
Now!

ADRIAN'S TASK IS TO ASSIST FARMERS

Explains How Burbank Conquers Stubborn Nature.

Time-honored is the adage of the reverence due the man who by the sweat of his brow causes two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before, and rightly and justly is that honor bestowed, for our people are every day giving more thought to the grave problem of producing, from the farms of America, more of the things the people of the nation need for sustenance. Nor is the question only nation-wide—it is world-wide.

Other nations, less favorably situated than this in point of available land, have already been forced to take up intensive farming as a matter of self-preservation, and their records of achievement read like fairy tales to American farmers, prodigal in their happy-go-lucky use of nature's bounties.

But if the man who toils to produce two blades of grass where but one grew heretofore is worthy of honor, how much more is honor due the man who has conducted the pioneer work into uncharted fields, wringing from reluctant nature help where she had been giving hindrance, turning weeds into flowers and menacing cactus into edible tropical growths, adding new beauties to the rose, and by miracle-touching experiments giving promise, as one paragon has put it, of producing perennial strawberries and cream by grafting the strawberry plant on the milk weed.

Such a man is Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, and Prof. Henry A. Adrian of Santa Barbara, Cal., has performed, and is performing, a rare service to the people of America, and particularly those interested in agricultural pursuits, by bringing to them, through the medium of lectures, illustrated by specimens from the Burbank gardens, the story of the Burbank experiments. Adrian is a co-worker with the plant wizard, a man of fine attainments, and capable of presenting the work even better than Burbank himself, with the natural limitation of modesty concerning his achievements, could do, and his lectures have been proclaimed great contributions to the education of our people, along needed lines.

THE KAFFIR BOYS CHOIR.

That American and European singers can learn much from a careful study of the work of a choir of Kaffir boys, taken from the African wilds, is the declaration of a well known musical critic, who highly commends the almost perfect enunciation of these wonderful boys, whose singing has delighted critical audiences in Europe and this country. Not only do these young descendants of the jungle folk sing with exceptional enunciation, but with rare knowledge of musical technique. They were trained by Prof. J. H. Balmer, an African explorer of note, who was attracted by the possibilities in the voices he heard in a savage war dance, and who devoted years to developing their natural abilities, teaching them the English language, and rounding out their musical education. His success has given a new impetus to Christian evangelization of Africa.

Before sailing she sent out cards for her final reception, and in the corner was engraved the customary "P. P. C." (pour prendre congé.) One was sent to the less prosperous sister, Mrs. Morningside. It was in the morning mail and was opened at the Morningsides' breakfast table.

"What do you think of this, Josiah?" asked the voluminous partner of his joys, his sorrows and his breakfasts. "Seems to me Almira is making a social blunder. Here she has printed on her cards 'P. P. C.' and that, it seems to me, is carrying her family pretensions a little too far."

"Ahem," grunted Josiah, glancing up from his paper. "What's this P. P. C. business mean? Too much for me."
"Why, President Polk's cousin, of course. It's all well enough to talk about our relationship to that great man, but it's a social blunder for Almira to have the fact blazoned on her reception cards. She's flying too high, and this will be her fall, I'm afraid, poor girl!"—New York Times.

Puzzlers.

A teacher in the third grade at the Warren school recently introduced the word "veil" to the attention of her pupils.

"What does veil mean?" she asked. There was no response. "Ladies wear them," she explained. Then a small boy spoke up.

"Please, teacher," he said, "it is a black cloth de ladies wear over dere faces when de flies is biting."

Another teacher, also in the third grade, made an effort to get the children to comprehend the word "lonesome."

For a little time they were stolidly silent.

Then a small boy spoke up.

"I know it, teacher," he said.

"Well, Eddie?"

"Please, teacher, I loan some paper off a boy."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Merely an Investigator.

"Lady," said Phodding Pete, "have you got any cold virtues?"

"Yes. I'll give you some if you'll do a little work."

"I was merely askin' as a matter of scientific inquiry. How do you manage to keep 'em cold?"—Washington Star.

Mistakes In Mexico Draw Us Toward War

By ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE, Former
United States Senator From Indiana

NO MAN IN THIS COUNTRY WANTS WAR, NOW OR EVER, UNLESS THE PRICE OF PEACE BE NATIONAL HUMILIATION OR NATIONAL DISHONOR. THE MISTAKES IN MEXICAN AFFAIRS MADE DURING THE LAST SIXTEEN MONTHS HAVE STEADILY DRAWN US TOWARD WAR, AND THE PRESENT SITUATION, INSTEAD OF PREVENTING WAR, IS SOWING THE SEEDS OF SERIOUS TROUBLE IN THE FUTURE.

What we need is a policy which will settle things in that distracted country for all time to come. But instead of this we are attempting to COVER AN ACTIVE VOLCANO WITH TISSUE PAPER, and in doing so we are destroying the work of more than a century of American statesmanship.

Both Mexico and Colorado Problems Industrial Ones

By Rev. GEORGE B. VAN ARSDALE,
Central Christian Church, Denver

THE LUST FOR POWER IS THE DIRECT CAUSE FOR THE CONDITIONS IN COLORADO AND IN MEXICO. THE WISE OLD BOOK WE CALL THE BIBLE NEVER WAS MORE TRUE TO FACT THAN WHEN ON ITS EVERY PAGE IT ASCRIBED THE DISTRESS OF THE HUMAN FAMILY TO THE PASSION FOR POWER, WHETHER THAT PASSION ASSERTED ITSELF IN THE LUST FOR GOLD OR SOME OTHER FORM OF DOMINATION.

It is an old story, old as the race and new as our latest upheaval. It is the desire of man to control his fellows. In both Mexico and Colorado the problem is at the bottom essentially an industrial struggle.

LOCAL MAN HEADS NEW $200,000 ENTERPRISE

The Ohio Electrolytic Oxygen Company incorporates with Mr. A. S. Glascock at head—Factories to be located in Cincinnati and Cleveland—Oxygen and Hydrogen Will be Products of New Concern.

A new enterprise in Ohio, with a well known local man, Mr. A. S. Glascock, at the head, has just been incorporated with an authorized capitalization of $200,000, and is to be known as The Ohio Electrolytic Oxygen company, with plants in Cincinnati and Cleveland.

In addition to Mr. Glascock, who will be the head of the company, other men heavily interested in the enterprise are: Joseph F. Verkamp, B. L. Heldingsfeld, J. B. Ratterman and A. B. Chisholm, of Cincinnati.

The company is to manufacture oxygen and hydrogen by a new process with machinery, invented by the Burdette Manufacturing Company, of Chicago, Ill., and the Burdette company furnishes the equipment. Mr. Glascock has the sole rights to manufacture the product in Ohio, and owing to the constantly increasing demand for the two articles, a plant in Cincinnati and one in Cleveland are necessary to produce the oxygen and hydrogen in sufficient amounts to meet the demands.

It is expected that both plants will be constructed, equipped and in operation in the fall. Virtually all of the work will be done by machinery, and the process of obtaining the oxygen and hydrogen is the decomposition of water by means of electrolysis.

The two plants will be the only ones in Ohio, and those interested in the manufacture are said to have prospects of a profitable investment.

Mr. Glascock will, in all probability, not move from this city, but will divide his time between the Cincinnati and the Cleveland plants.

The new process was invented by Mr. Byron L. Gifford, formerly of this city, now of Chicago, and who is now at the head of the father company. Mr. Gifford is a brother-in-law of Mr. Glascock.

The use of the two gases is playing a very prominent part in the field of manufacture, and by the new process the products can be produced much cheaper than by any previous invention.

LOCAL MEN GET RIDE IN WAGON

Victims of Circumstances Have Exciting Experiences in Columbus and Embarrassment is Further Increased by the Finding of a Gun on One Man.

It happened a night or two ago. Two well known residents had planned an evening's entertainment in the Capitol city. All would have been well had it not been for the "happy thought" experienced by one of the men, who, before cranking his machine for the journey, ran into the business house of a friend and borrowed a revolver with the parting explanation that "its best to be prepared."

Arriving in Columbus the pair had barely parked their car when they were attracted by the screams of a woman and the gathering of a crowd on one of the city's main streets and, not to miss the excitement, ran to the scene of activity and joined the crowd, simultaneously with two policemen. No sooner had they done so than an hysterical woman who occupied the center of the circle, turned upon them with a shriek and pointing a trembling finger cried out, "There they are! They did it!"

Vainly protesting, the local men were seized by the police and hurried into the "wagon." In due time they arrived at police court, then's when things started. A search of the prisoners brought to light the "pepper box" and in the subsequent excitement the Fayette countians experienced the closest brush with penal servitude of their lives.

How they got out of it has not been learned, but they are home again and there is no record of a case against them. It is claimed that the men had nothing to do with the trouble on the street, but were merely the victims of circumstances, brought about by the hysterical woman, who accused the first persons she saw of causing the accident on the street.

The six graduates are being trained by Miss Ada Knedler, one of Perry township's best known teachers. PLANS ARE READY FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Architect J. Howard Hicks has finished plans and specifications for the new $15,000 school building in Clarksburg, and for the new school building near Cochran church south of town.

The Clarksburg building is to be 44 by 74 feet, two stories, and work is to begin within thirty days and be finished by early winter.

The new structure south of town is to cost $3,000 and is to be a frame building, 28 by 40 feet. It is to be erected and ready for occupancy by fall.

one of his own compositions, "Oh Gee Whiz, I've Got the Rheumatiz", and he was forced to repeat it before the pleased auditors would allow him to depart.

Another popular feature of the program was the singing of the Elks' quartet, composed of Messrs. Horace Ireland, Howard Allen, L. L. Bowman and R. R. Kibler.

Following came the concluding feature of the evening, a moving picture exhibition in charge of Charles Johnson and the appropriateness of the film, an educational reel showing the manner in which Decoration Day is observed at the National cemetery, was an artistic finishing touch to an evening of complete enjoyment.

During the banquet and throughout the evening music was furnished by Horstman and Ramsey.

SUDDEN DEATH BY DROWNING

Mrs. W. E. Sturgeon, south of town, received the startling news Tuesday morning that her nephew, Mr. Walter Foulke, had been drowned at his home in Washington state. No particulars were given, but knowing that Mr. Foulke held a position on a steamer, it is supposed his death resulted from some steamer accident.

The sudden death is particularly tragic as the young man, who is about 27 years of age, was to have been married the 20th of this month. His sweetheart starts east with the body as soon as it can be found.

The parents of the deceased resided in Greenfield until a year ago, when they moved to a farm near Cincinnati. They have many relatives and friends in this city who are learning of the fatality with deepest sympathy. The son had not been home for a number of years.

Mrs. Sturgeon's sister, Mrs. Iva Markley, went through here from her home in Columbus enroute to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foulke Tuesday, but Mrs. Sturgeon will not go down until further word is received.

SECOND SUIT FILED AGAINST RAILROAD

Solicitor Pope Gregg Tuesday morning filed another suit in the Common Pleas court in which the city of Washington makes the B. & O. railroad defendant in an action to appropriate property owned by the B. & O. for the purpose of opening Grace and Pearl streets.

The plaintiff asks that a jury be empaneled to fix the compensation for the lands required for the street crossings.

LABORER APPLIES FOR COMPENSATION

Charles A. Rutter, of Gregg street, who had one hand injured a few days ago while employed in the work of building approaches to the new bridge on the Oakland avenue extension, has applied to the State Industrial Commission for compensation for injuries received and loss of time.

His application was forwarded to the department this week.

MAIL CARRIER SUES COUNTY

L. M. Maag, who has the contract for carrying the mail to and from the railroads in this city, has filed suit against the county commissioners in which he asks damages in the sum of $1,075 as a result of injuries sustained January 23, 1914, and for the death of a horse, which he valued at $75.

Plaintiff states that there is a large open ditch which runs in front of the Maag premises on Elm street, opposite St. Colman's cemetery, and that the commissioners have charge of the ditch. He states that it has been necessary for him to bridge the ditch, and that upon the morning in question while leaving his home at an early hour, the horse lunged forward and the rig was upset, hurling plaintiff, horse and rig into the ditch, injuring the horse so that it was necessary to kill it and injuring the plaintiff to the extent of $1,000.

MEMOIR.

Milton Davis Noble, son of J. H. and Lavena Noble, was born near New Holland, Ohio, February 2, 1859 and died at his home on South Fayette street, Washington C. H., June 12, 1914, after twelve years of suffering from sarcoma cancer, from which he underwent 14 operations, an affliction which he bore uncomplainingly. Never heard to murmur nor complain. He was united in marriage July 9, 1880, to Miss Lotie May, who died June 17, 1895, after living happily together for 15 years. Again united in marriage to his now bereaved widow, Miss Winnie C. Cooper, January 11, 1910. Unto this union was born two sons, Milton Davis and George Marion, who with four brothers and two sisters are left to mourn the loss of a kind husband, loving father and affectionate brother.

He joined the first Baptist church of this city, April, 1910. He talked and left a bright assurance that all was well.

The Vanishing Woods.

Hamilton county is very much in need of a little well-directed conservation. We still have a larger wooded area than any of the other big-city counties in Ohio. But the woods are being cut down at an alarming rate. If something is not done the once beautiful hills of southwestern Ohio will presently glare at the human beings who have mistreated them, as bare and useless as the eroded hills of China, which have so long served as a horrible example of what befalls a nation which refuses to practice conservation.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

For More Comprehensive Reform.

The movement for the standardization of the modern dances is good as far as it goes, but it should be extended to include magazine poetry, after-dinner speeches and political platforms.—New York Post.

In Social Circles

Flag Day never fails to arouse the patriotism of the Daughters of the American Revolution and a large attendance of loyal Daughters gathered at the home of Mrs. Robert Howat Monday afternoon for its celebration. The Howat place, suggesting as it does in its spacious arrangement and large grounds Colonial days, provided ideal setting for the gathering on this significant day, and national colors, draped the pillars of the immense veranda, while flags floated out over the lawn.

Flowers added fragrance and beauty, one especially beautiful vase of blue larkspur and white lilies, with big bow of crimson ribbon completing the color scheme of red, white and blue, many of the flowers were sent from Mrs. R. S. Quinn's flower gardens.

It was pre-eminently a social afternoon, bringing to a pleasurable close a satisfactory year in the chapter and leaving an afterglow of enjoyable remembrance.

The guests were seated on the lawn for a summer collation and a huge bowl of punch was served under a spreading tree all afternoon.

A victrola concert of beautiful records, many of them patriotic, offered varied delight.

The outgoing regent, Miss Florence Ogle, who has filled the office with much grace and dignity, asked the attention of the Daughters for a brief business session.

It was decided by the chapter that the officers of the past year hold over until the new officers take their places in October.

The newly elected regent, Mrs. Emma Brown Morris, announced as her committee for program and general work, Mrs. Eva Craig, Miss Florence Ogle, Mrs. Ray Maynard, Mrs. Olive Hadley Sprenger, Mrs. Jane Todhunter.

Mrs. E. F. Kinnear, of Columbus, and Mrs. Simmons, of Greenfield and Miss Grace Van Winkle, of Hamilton, were non-resident members of the local chapter present, and Mrs. Blaine, of Canton, O., a visiting member.

A host of friends are learning with interest and surprise that Miss Lulu Henkle and Mr. George L. Sheets, of Middletown, were married at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. John W. Shoop (nee Ruth Perrill) in Chicago, Saturday evening, June 6th.

The young couple were planning to wed in the early autumn, but when Mr. Sheets joined Miss Henkle, who was visiting relatives in Chicago, everything seemed so opportune for an earlier ceremony, that it was hurriedly arranged.

Rev. Bebe, of the Methodist church, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheets visited in Chicago until Tuesday, when they left for Middletown remaining through the week.

Mr. Sheets accompanied his bride to her home in this city, where she will remain until a desirable house can be secured in Middletown and housekeeping arrangements made.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Henkle, a bright, attractive girl, and a talented musician. Mr. Sheets is advertising manager for the American Rolling Mills, Middletown, and one of the rising young business men of that city.

The young couple are receiving the best wishes of many friends in both cities.

Miss Pearl Minton entertained Monday afternoon with a delightful Kensington at her home in Millwood.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations and a dainty refreshment served.

Mrs. O. C. Minton assisted her daughter.

The guests were: Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, of Mt. Sterling; Mesdames Viola Brakefield, A. J. Cline, Hurtt and Lee Hurtt, Misses Florence Olinger, Emma Henkle, Vada Brakefield, Frances Howland, Lulu Bininger.

In compliment to her guests, Misses Nina Steinbrook, Iselwise and Dorothy DeVore of New Lexington; Miss Luella Riley gave a Kensington Tuesday afternoon.

It was a very attractive affair of the June season, with crimson ramblers in gorgeous bloom and the noted gardens of Fayette nursery most inviting under the bluest of skies.

A delicious luncheon was served, Mrs. J. N. Riley, Mrs. W. H. Dial, Misses Sallie Dial and Vera Veal assisting.

Tonight Miss Riley gives an informal little garden party, at which Mr. George Barton, of New Lexington, will also be an honor guest.

NEW Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY IS FROM SPRINGFIELD, O.

Mr. Walter Patton, Educational Secretary of the Springfield Association, Last Night, Accepts Offer of Local Y. M. C. A. Trustees and Will Take Up Work Within Next Few Weeks—Comes Highly Recommended.

Mr. Walter Patton, present educational secretary of the Springfield, Ohio, Y. M. C. A., will be the next general secretary of the local association to take the place vacated by Mr. Ray F. Zaner. Mr. Zaner's resignation went into effect Monday, but it is probable that he will look after the secretaryship of the Y. M. C. A. until relieved by Mr. Patton which will be within the next few weeks.

The installation of a new secretary has been a matter of keen interest to the populace of Washington and Fayette county, as so much depends on the further conduct of the institution for which its men and women have put up such a brave and successful struggle to save, and the fact that the board of trustees has secured a man so well recommended as Mr. Patton, will come as a relief to the expectant thousands.

Mr. Patton is a young man, and unmarried. He has been associated with Y. M. C. A. work for several years. During a period reaching over four years, in which he has looked after the educational interests of the Springfield association, he has made a splendid record as the books and officials of that organization eloquently testify. The successful educational classes during that time many in number and under his supervision, are a pride in the home city, and his success there is a good recommendation.

A native of Yellow Springs, O., near Xenia, and a graduate of Antioch and Muskingum colleges, Mr. Patton has spent the greater part of his life in this community, and is not unknown here. He is especially remembered among the young men as the coach of the crack Springfield High school football eleven of 1912, which made such a showing here.

It is with general and sincere regret that the public is called on to witness the departure of Mr. Zaner who has made many friends in his work here. It is with satisfaction, however, that the public received his announcement that his new duties in the insurance field will keep him among Washington people a great deal of his time.

Information coming from the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. late Tuesday afternoon is to the effect that Mr. Zaner will sever his official connection with the institution as soon as he has completed his audit of the Association's books, which will be in a few days. From that time until Mr. Patton assumes his duties the work of the Association will be looked after by Physical Director McClung and Mr. Frank Toops.

Mrs. James Summers is visiting in Williamsport.

Postmaster John Culhan and daughter, Mary Alice, went to Dayton Tuesday morning to attend the commencement at St. Mary's college. Mrs. Culhan's nephew, John Hogan, son of Attorney General Timothy Hogan, is one of the graduates.

Mrs. Frank E. Haines and Mrs. John King spent Monday in Columbus. Mrs. King remaining over Tuesday.

Miss Iselwise and Dorothy DeVore of New Lexington; Mr. George Barton, of Ashtabula, are the guests of Miss Luella Riley, of the Bogus road.

Mr. Bert Spangler, of Twin Falls, Idaho, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Deliah Spangler. Mrs. Spangler, who is prominent in club federation work, is in attendance at the National Federation of Women's clubs in convention at Chicago, this week, joins her husband here Friday.

Mr. Don Sheets arrives from Middletown Tuesday afternoon to visit his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Sheets, at the home of her father, Mr. A. C. Henkle.

C., to visit his aunt, Mrs. Sherman Murry, for the next two weeks.

Love of the Forest.
The only way to love the forest is to stay in it until you have learned its pathless travel, growth and inhabitants as you know the fields. You must begin at the gate and find your way slowly, else you will not hear the great secret and see the compelling vision. There are trees you never before have seen, flowers and vines the botanists fail to mention and such music as your ears cannot hear elsewhere.—Gene Stratton Porter.

Never Satisfied.
"We are never satisfied." "How now?" "We all want front seats at the theater, we're peevish if we can't get them and if we do get them we begin to think the play can't be very good."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ARMISTICE DOES NOT SUIT REBELS

Will Not Be Represented at the Peace Conference.

MEDIATORS WILL STAND PAT

Determined Not to Admit Carranza Delegates Unless the Constitutionalist Agrees to Cessation of Hostilities in Mexico—Compromise Suggested at the National Capital, Deadlock at Niagara Falls.

Washington, June 16.—Hopes for the admission of Carranza's delegates to the mediation conferences faded still more when it became known that the mediators will stand pat on their refusal to admit them unless an armistice is agreed upon.

It was stated positively by members of the Constitutionalist junta that no representatives of Carranza will go to Niagara Falls except as fully empowered delegates to represent him at the conferences. It has been hinted by these authorities before that possibly Senors Cabrera and Vasconcelos might be present at Niagara Falls to advise and consult with the Americans and Huerta delegates, though not to take part in the conferences in which the A. B. C. powers were represented. Instructions have been received from Carranza forbidding this course. Senors Vasconcelos and Cabrera are now in New York.

NO MENTION OF ARMISTICE

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 16.—General Carranza's long expected note arrived here. It contains the announcement that the Mexican rebel leader has appointed three delegates to the mediation conference, Fernando Calderon, Luis Cabrera and Jose Vasconcelos.

To this message the three mediators at once replied by informing General Carranza that his message contains no reference to the paragraph in their previous note relating to the declaration of an armistice. It was pointed out that the rebel leader merely reiterates statements made previously, that he is careful to mention only the "international conflict" as a subject to be discussed here.

The mediators' reply is another substantiation of the assertion made repeatedly that the three South American envoys have not receded from their original stand. They will not receive the Constitutionalist delegates officially until an armistice has been declared.

No progress has been made in the mediation proceedings. The delegates are deadlocked over the selection of a provisional president, and persons who are close to the Mexican delegates say that the situation will remain unchanged until the Washington government decides to change its attitude.

WANTS TAXES REDUCED.

GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX.

Governor Cox is about to call an extra session of the legislature to reduce the state tax levy, owing to the fact that the new Warnes law has increased the state tax duplicate one thousand million dollars. The tax levy made by the last legislature, if allowed to stand, would bring to the state one million dollars, and this Governor Cox wishes to avoid by cutting the levy. All county auditors have been ordered to hold in abeyance the state levy, pending a change by the legislature.

TROGLODYTES OF TRIPOLI.

They Live Underground, Some of Them Never Seeing Daylight.

In the region of Gharian, in the hinterland of Tripoli, there is an invisible town with 7,000 inhabitants. This city of the Troglodytes was visited by Miss Ethel Braun and is described by her in her book, "The New Tripoli."

This city is excavated out of rock and earth. Its inhabitants live underground, some of them never coming to the surface. "The richer ones," writes Miss Braun, "are born in these dim dwellings, never leaving them until they are carried out to be buried." The rich families have, however, one reception room over the ground at a height of six or seven feet.

Describing the Troglodyte prison, Miss Braun tells of an Italian lady's experience while visiting the female prisoners.

"They had never seen a European woman before and asked her to take off her hat. No sooner had she done so that in a twinkling all her hairpins were pulled out, to be kept as souvenirs by the women, who looked upon them as most precious mementos."

The friendly Troglodytes made Arab tea for Miss Braun, "shad, as it is called, made with powdered tea and much, very much, sugar, so that it tastes just like a sirup," and they were very excited at the event of her visit.

Her Candlestick Courtship.

The servant was discussing her latest love affair with a mistress, who was humane enough to be interested.

"Well," said the mistress, "since you've been going out with him for months, I think it's quite time he took you to see his parents."

"I've been telling him so, ma'am. Only last Sunday I said to him, 'Herbert, I'm not going to be courted in this candlestick way any longer!'"

It was some time, says the Manchester Guardian, before the mistress' puzzled brain understood that "candlestick" and "candlestick" were synonymous.

Knew He Was Safe.

"You seem to be going home in a very cheerful manner for a man who has been out all night."

"Yes. You see, my wife is an amateur elocutionist, and she's saving her voice for an entertainment tomorrow night."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NICE MESS FOR PROBE

Chilton and Overman Blame Employees and Seek Inquiry.

Washington, June 16.—Steps were taken in the senate toward an official investigation of the exploitation of a North Carolina gold mine on the letterheads of two of the senate committees. Both Senator Overman of North Carolina and Senator Chilton of West Virginia, who own stock in the mine and whose employees are blamed for the use of the senate stationery, asked for an investigation. Senator Overman introduced a resolution authorizing the employment of a special committee of five senators.

Before either of the senators had acted, however, Senator LaFollette had served emphatic notice that he would present such a resolution and would urge its adoption by the senate. In fact the resolution presented was the one drawn by Mr. LaFollette. The senator from Wisconsin had yielded in favor of Mr. Overman after Senator Chilton had told him that if such a resolution was to be submitted he ought to permit it to come from him (Chilton) or from Mr. Overman. The inquiry will include not only the use of the senate stationery, but also the sending of an employee of the treasury department at government expense to the North Carolina property for the purpose of investigating the mine.

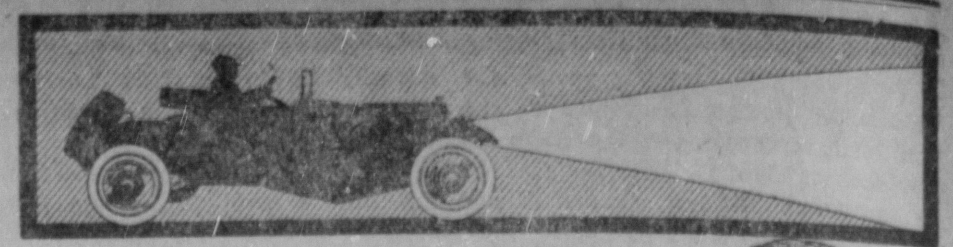

FEARED WRATH

Fremont, O., June 16.—Granting a motion made by attorneys for the defense, Judge Young of Norwalk ordered the trial of Herman King, charged with slaying 30 horses in the west end of the county, held in Sandusky, Erie county, next week. In asking the venue change attorneys for King argued that feeling against the man is so strong that infuriated farmers might do him bodily harm.

C. H. & D. REOPENS WORK ON NEW FREIGHT DEPOT

Long Delayed Improvement is to be Rushed Through Without Delay, According to Announcement Made Today—Quarter of Hundred Local Laborers to be Employed.

The C. H. & D. Railroad company is to begin at once on the work of building the new freight depot and railroad yards in this city, and are anxious to obtain 25 laborers in this city to assist in the work until it is completed. It is understood that the company pays $1.75 per day for labor.

Work on the new freight depot was suspended several weeks ago when the city council delayed definite action on the franchise ordinance asked by the company. At that time the company started when the application was made for a franchise, and when it was not railroaded through council, all work was suspended pending final action.

Material, which was on hand for the improvement, was shipped elsewhere, and went into another improvement on the road. No move was made toward resuming the work until what was deemed a stumbling block was removed when council, at a special meeting, changed part of the ordinance, eliminating that clause providing for two watchmen at the street crossings.

Tuesday it was announced that the work would be resumed at once, and material will be shipped here for the new freight depot and new tracks, so that little delay in completing the improvement, is anticipated.

No material changes will be made on the original plans of the depot, it is claimed, and the structure will be located west of Main street, with the team tracks, or freight yards, between Main and North streets.

When the improvement is completed it will fill a want which has been keenly felt by local shippers for more than a half score of years, and the freight facilities are expected to equal those of any road in the city.

held at residence of Mrs. W. E. Ireland, Wednesday, June 17, at two o'clock. A full attendance is desired. Election of officers.

CAMDEN SUCCEEDS BRADLEY

By Associated Press.

Frankfort, Ky., June 1.—Governor McCreary today signed the commission of Johnson N. Camden, of Versailles, as United States senator from Kentucky to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Senator W. O. Bradley. Mr. Camden will serve until November when a senator will be elected to fill out Bradley's term which expires March 4, 1915. Senator Camden is expected to leave immediately for Washington.

John N. Camden was born January 5, 1865, at Parkersburg, W. Va., the son of J. N. Sr., and Anne Thompson Camden. His father was one of the developers of coal, gas and traction interests in his native state, and was United States Senator from West Virginia from 1881 to 1887, and from 1893 to 1895. J. N. Camden, Jr., was educated at Phillips Andover Academy and the Virginia Military Academy at Lexington, Va., afterward attending the Columbia Law School, New York City. He entered upon his active business career with the Ohio River Railroad, a line built by his father. Later he became president of a railroad construction company which built the Monongahela River Railroad.

He came to Kentucky in 1890, purchased a country estate of 1600 acres near Versailles and became a breeder of thoroughbred horses. Many racing horses that became noted on the tracks were bred at "Springhill." Later he was associated with John C. C. Mayo and C. W. Watson in Eastern Kentucky development companies. Mr. Camden holds offices in coal companies at Versailles, Ky., Parkersburg, W. Va., and New York and is a director in banks at Parkersburg and Lexington; and of the Parkersburg, Marietta and Interurban Railroad company. He was one of the chief figures in assembling the electrical railroad properties in Ashland, Kentucky, Huntington, W. Va., and Ironton, Ohio, known as the Camden Interstate Railway, of which he was the first president.

Mr. Camden entered politics in 1911. He served on both the executive and financial committees of the democratic party in that year. He is a member of the State Racing Commission, recently appointed, and was largely instrumental in securing the passage of the bill providing for such a commission in Kentucky.

Mr. Camden was married in 1889 to Miss Susanna Preston Hart, of Woodford county, Ky. They have two daughters.

DEATHS

He is about 25 years of age.

CARING FOR THE LAWN.

Cut the Grass Quite Long and Never Use an Iron Rake.

Grass should be cut "long" so that the roots will be protected after the cutting. This means, says the department of agriculture's landscape gardener, that the lawn mower should be set just as high as it will go.

Lawns should be cut frequently, and in ordinary cases where the cuttings are normal they should be left where they fall, notwithstanding the contrary opinion of the energetic person who follows up his cuttings by raking with an iron rake. Lawns should never be raked with an iron rake except to prepare them for the sowing of grass seed, for such raking harrows up the soil. Neither should they be swept.

If the diligent caretaker of a lawn must follow up the cutting by some other operation only a wooden rake should be used, and this should be employed so as not to disturb such of the grass clippings as have sifted down around the roots. These grass clippings that settle around the roots afford them a very important protection and will do much to keep the lawn in fine condition when there is lack of rain later in the season, for they will hold the moisture and act as a shield from the sun. In fact, the grass cuttings are generally needed about the roots and should not detract from the looks of the lawn, for they soon shrivel, dry up and work their way down so that they are no longer noticed. Grasses are naturally cool climate plants and are liable to be harmed by the hot sun about the roots.

Suffrage in Spain.

Emilia Pardo Bazan has announced that she will start in the near future a national campaign in favor of woman suffrage. She is the foremost woman writer in Spain, her literary achievements having won for her the title of countess, which was given by King Alfonso in 1908. Spain is one of the three European countries which have not an organized woman suffrage movement, the other two being Greece and the grand duchy of Luxembourg.

Over 3,000 Candy Makers

Are turning out Ohio candy, in one hundred and fourteen candy factories of the state. And candy making is by no means a leading industry of Ohio. Do you know what the biggest factories of the state ARE making, and how many men it takes to keep them going? How many proprietors, how many clerks, and how many wage earners? It is interesting to read about, and it might be pretty useful, too. You must do business, directly or indirectly, with some of those factories, and their industry concerns you.

Our OHIO ALMANAC, just issued for 1914, tells you all about the manufacturing business of Ohio, the business of farming, the schools, the religious organizations, the population, the platforms of the various political parties, the officials of the state and the counties, and about 100,000 other interesting facts about your state. Useful bits of information they are, too, that would cost you hundreds of dollars in time and cash to find out for yourself if we had not gathered it all together for you.

And we sell it to you for 25c at our office, or 30c by mail, postpaid.

WORDSLIKE MAGIC CONGRESS TO ACT

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 16.—President Wilson was hopeful today that the administration trust legislative program will be passed so Congress may adjourn in July. According to officials close to the President it is believed that there is no prospect of any organization opposition to the trust legislation by Republicans in the Senate and that a filibuster is improbable.

The President expects the railroad securities and the omnibus anti-trust bill to be reported out of committee within the next two weeks. President Wilson's attitude against any adjournment without enactment of trust bills had an immediate effect at the Capitol. The leaders began hurrying work on the appropriation bills and tuning up legislative machinery all along the line. Most of the Senators are eager for midsummer adjournment. Democratic Leader Kern said he thought the program could be disposed of so Congress could adjourn before August 1, and expected no opposition from the Republicans.

PARACHUTE SHOT FROM COMPRESSED AIR GUN MAY SAVE THE LIVES OF AVIATORS WHO FALL

You read almost every day about fatalities to air men, particularly abroad. You have often wondered why a safety device had not been invented to save aviators from the constant peril of the sky. Such a device has been invented by George Prensler, an Englishman, and is here shown at its first trial. The device is simply a parachute which is shot from a compressed air gun attached to the seat of an aeroplane. It was tried out from the rear of an auto, being shot into the air to demonstrate how quickly it would open, thus saving the aviator from a plunge.

MOVE TO REDUCE 1914 STATE LEVY

Cox May Call Special Session
Of the Legislature.

MATTER UNDER CONSIDERATION

Thought by State Officials That No Reduction Can Be Made Without Legislative Enactment—State Duplicate Increased $1,000,000,000 Through Operation of the Warnes Tax Law.

Columbus, O., June 16.—Because it is expected that the grand tax duplicate of the state will be increased approximately $1,000,000,000 through the operation of the Warnes tax law, Governor Cox is considering the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature to reduce the 1914 state levy, which was made by the last legislature.

Upon advice of the governor, State Auditor Donahey has sent out circular letters to county auditors, requesting them to hold in abeyance the state levy which has been certified to them for collection until further notice. It is known that the governor has asked Attorney General Hogan concerning the question of reducing the levy, but it is thought that no reduction can be made without legislative enactment. Therefore, in order to secure a reduction, the legislature would have to be called into extra session to make the reduction.

The state levy for 1914, as fixed by the legislature, is .964 of a mill. On the basis of the 1913 duplicate, which is $6,681,059,158, the 1914 levy would produce $6,420,497. With the $1,000,000,000 increase to the duplicate this levy would produce almost $1,000,000 more. The legislature had not counted on such an increase being made to the duplicate or it would have made a smaller levy, it is said.

The governor has asserted many times that he is anxious to see the people receive the reward of a smaller tax rate by reason of the Warnes tax law, and for this reason it is thought that he will call the legislators together to make the reduction unless some other means of bringing about the reduction can be worked out.

The special session is expected to be called early in July, so advantage of the laws which may be passed can be taken this year when budget commissions meet in August to fix the rates. Because of this

STREETS OF PARIS CAVE IN

Paris, June 16.—The bodies of a dozen or more persons, engulfed by cave-ins that followed a terrific thunderstorm, were drawn into the sewers of the St. Lazare quarter. Rains burst the conduit, undermined streets and houses, and big patches of thoroughfares have dropped away. The number of deaths or the extent of the damage is unknown. The Metropolitan underground railway is closed and traffic has been suspended. Gas mains, telephone wires and the electrical supply have been cut off. Policemen are exploring the sunken streets for bodies.

A sewer burst alongside the subway in the Rue di Rivoli, putting it out of commission. Another burst in the Rue Boissy-D'Anglais, carrying away many feet of the pavement and flooding the new subway line under the Place de la Concorde. The property damage is enormous.

Every hour adds fresh reports of the great havoc wrought by the storm, both in Paris and the surrounding districts, which is described as the worst in the memory of Parisians.

ELECTRIC ROADS SHOW INCREASE OF $5,000,000

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, June 16.—Electric street, suburban and interurban railways increased in value only 2.8 per cent this year over their value of last year for taxation purposes, according to the report of the state tax commission made public today. The total valuation for these roads for 1914 is $145,476,000, as compared with $140,641,110 total as the 1913 value. Ravages of the flood which necessitated extensive repairs and great financial drain on most roads in the state is given by the tax commission as the reason for the slight increase.

The greatest valuation was given the Cleveland railway, $22,752,730. Other large valuations are: Ohio Electric railway, $13,953,640; Cincinnati Traction company, $18,760,400; Columbus Railway and Light company, $12,464,700; Northern Ohio Traction and Light company, $14,039,850; Toledo Railway and Light company, $8,896,950.

He will also join Colonel Rogers and party on a big game expedition outside the reserve, making part of the trip in a canoe.

LIFE IN THE LONG AGO.

When Huts Were Homes and Beds Were Shakedown of Straw.

For centuries the common people of England made their home in wooden huts of one room. When a family increased in numbers or wealth another hut was built beside it, or, rather, a lean-to was added and then another and another, as need required.

Sometimes they followed a straight line. At other times they were built out from the central hut at various angles. The roofs of these huts were thatched. An opening was left in the center for the smoke to escape. The fire was always built in a hollow in the center of the room. Beds were made of straw. Often they were merely shakedown in the corner. Occasionally the straw was held in a little frame resembling the ribs of a ship.

Houses built by Saxon knights were much more pretentious. They were big halls, like the Roman atrium, with a lofty roof thatched with slate or wood shingles. The floor was of hard clay. In the middle was a great fire of dry wood. The thin, acrid smoke from the fire escaped through an opening in the roof directly above the hearth.

Round the fire were long benches, on which hearthsmen and visitors sat when not fighting or at work, and talked and drank the hours through. The tables were long boards on trestles. At night the floor was strewn with straw, and, like the less prosperous folk, host and visitors slept together.—Youth's Companion.

Mules and War.

Along all the frontiers of the world wherever there is a war there is a demand for the mule. Compared with him the much vaunted war horse is a vanishing fragment of the past. His strength, his sureness of foot, his wariness of eye, his ability to endure hardship and hard work on little food and with little care, have made him invaluable as a campaigner, whether in deserts or mountains. The mule has seen the camel and the elephant disappear from armies. He may see the horse vanish. He has seen the motorcycle and the motorcar come in. He may see the aeroplanes numbered by thousands. But it is not likely he will ever see himself superseded in his own line of work. There may be mules without war, but probably never a war without mules.—New York World.

Congress and the Debates

Members of the National Congress, both in the House of Representatives and in the Senate, are becoming restless over the long drawn out session and openly expressing their desire that Congress adjourn and permit the members to go home.

That's right; they have a right to become restless. The present session is tedious to both members and to the public. It is "getting on the nerves" of the public as well as on the nerves of the members who must attend the sessions.

Perhaps, though, if Congress is kept at the grind until the necessary legislation is enacted, the members will learn that the practice of indulging in long drawn out debates is unprofitable and annoying to them as it is to the executive and the people who demand that needed legislation be enacted.

Some of the Senators seem not to have learned that the agencies for manufacturing public sentiment are not so powerful as they once were, and that debate and oratory of interminable length—drawn out long after every vital point of the issue under consideration has been presented, pro and con—is unavailing to change a demand of the people for action into a consent to non-action for the sake of stopping the talk.

The people have long since learned that talk—nothing but talk—is cheap. In these days the senators and representatives who act and act promptly are the ones who receive credit at the hands of the people.

Except in a few isolated instances men are not kept in Congress by their constituents merely because they are good public speakers.

Whether their actions are such as entitle them to be retained in Congress is, in most cases determinative of election results.

The old members who have been returned, time and time again by their constituents in the hope that the district will gain recognition under the rigid rules of seniority which have so long obtained in Congress, are more than any others, responsible for the perpetuation of this nonsensical practice of long debates.

If the members of Congress want to adjourn and come home, they have it in their own power to do so. It would not take long to enact—or at least to act finally upon—every one of the matters on the legislative program of the present administration.

Just as soon as Congress completes the work it should do there is no reason why the members should remain in Washington and Congress can complete the work just as soon as one of two things occur—either the old timers become cognizant of the fact that it is no longer possible to talk a proposal to death or some rule is adopted limiting the length of debate.

It is high time that the present Congress concluded its labors. Everyone is agreed on that and no one will be found to express sorrow when an adjournment is taken, provided the work is done.

Poetry For Today

"KNEE-DEEP IN JUNE."

I remember, I remember, when the snow was on the ground
I was tickled, greatly tickled, when a nice warm spot I found.
With a feeling of contentment I would fondly hug the stove—
Ay, from the dear old inglenook I never cared to rove.
But I had to! Yes, I had to! With reluctance I would go
To the cellar for the shovel—with the shovel shovel snow!
'Tis even so that great and small to circumstances must bow—
But things are very different, Ay, things are very different,
Now!

I remember, I remember, when I wrestled with the frost
That had wrestled with the water pipes and wrestled at my cost;
And I had to get a plumber who, according to the rules,
Would come to view the wreckage, then go back and get his tools;
After which he'd softly solder and a lot of time he'd kill.
Caring nothing for the murder—'twas included in the bill.
That is why my face is wrinkled and quite frosty is my pow—
But things are very different, Ay, things are very different,
Now!

I remember, I remember, and it harrows up my soul,
How I fed the blooming furnace with a thousand tons of coal;
How the ashes that I lifted caused a very nasty cough,
While the ashman made a fortune when he came to haul 'em off;
And the clinkers on my character left many ugly scars—
For one has to do some cussin when one tries to clear the bars.
And I'd smear myself with coal dust when I wiped my manly brow—
But things are very different, Ay, things are very different,
Now!

ADRIAN'S TASK IS TO ASSIST FARMERS

Explains How Burbank Conquers Stubborn Nature.

Time-honored is the adage of the reverence due the man who by the sweat of his brow causes two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before, and rightly and justly is that honor bestowed, for our people are every day giving more thought to the grave problem of producing from the farms of America, more of the things the people of the nation need for sustenance. Nor is the question only nation-wide—it is world-wide.

Other nations, less favorably situated than this in point of available land, have already been forced to take up intensive farming as a matter of self-preservation, and their records of achievement read like fairy tales to American farmers, prodigal in their happy-go-lucky use of nature's bounties.

But if the man who toils to produce two blades of grass where but one grew heretofore is worthy of honor, how much more is honor due the man who has conducted the pioneer work into uncharted fields, wringing from reluctant nature help where she had been giving hindrance, turning weeds into flowers and menacing cactus into edible tropical growths, adding new beauties to the rose, and by miracle-touching experiments giving promise, as one paragraph has put it, of producing perennial strawberries and cream by grafting the strawberry plant on the milk weed.

Such a man is Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, and Prof. Henry A. Adrian of Santa Barbara, Cal., has performed, and is performing, a rare service to the people of America, and particularly those interested in agricultural pursuits, by bringing to them, through the medium of lectures, illustrated by specimens from the Burbank gardens, the story of the Burbank experiments. Adrian is a co-worker with the plant wizard, a man of fine attainments, and capable of presenting the work even better than Burbank himself, with the natural limitation of modesty concerning his achievements, could do, and his lectures have been proclaimed great contributions to the education of our people, along needed lines.

THE KAFFIR BOYS CHOIR.

THAT American and European singers can learn much from a careful study of the work of a choir of Kaffir boys, taken from the African wilds, is the declaration of a well known musical critic, who highly commends the almost perfect enunciation of these wonderful boys, whose singing has delighted critical audiences in Europe and this country. Not only do these young descendants of the jungle folk sing with exceptional enunciation, but with rare knowledge of musical technique. They were trained by Prof. J. H. Balmer, an African explorer of note, who was attracted by the possibilities in the voices he heard in a savage war dance, and who devoted years to developing their natural abilities, teaching them the English language, and rounding out their musical education. His success has given a new impetus to Christian evangelization of Africa.

FLYING TOO HIGH.

Almira's Social Ambitions Soar to Perilous Heights.

Mrs. Riverside and Mrs. Morningside were sisters. Both had married well, but when it came to the supreme rustle in New York Mr. Riverside had outstripped his brother-in-law. Social lines diverged a trifle with the increase of the Riverside fortune. When Mrs. Riverside decided to assail the social barriers that rose between her and the blue book the Riviera was decided on as the spot from which to make the assault. Before sailing she sent out cards for her final reception, and in the corner was engraved the customary "P. P. C." (pour prendre congé.) One was sent to the less prosperous sister, Mrs. Morningside. It was in the morning's mail and was opened at the Morningsides' breakfast table.

"What do you think of this, Josiah?" asked the voluminous partner of his joys, his sorrows and his breakfasts. "Seems to me Almira is making a social blunder. Here she has printed on her cards 'P. P. C.' and that, it seems to me, is carrying her family pretensions a little too far."
"Ahem," grunted Josiah, glancing up from his paper. "What's this P. P. C. business mean? Too much for me."
"Why, President Polk's cousin, of course. It's all well enough to talk about our relationship to that great man, but it's a social blunder for Almira to have the fact blazoned on her reception cards. She's flying too high, and this will be her fall, I'm afraid, poor girl!"—New York Times.

Puzzlers.

A teacher in the third grade at the Warren school recently introduced the word "veil" to the attention of her pupils.

"What does veil mean?" she asked. There was no response. "Ladies wear them," she explained. Then a small boy spoke up.

"Please, teacher," he said, "it is a black cloth de ladies wear over dere faces when de flies is biting."

Another teacher, also in the third grade, made an effort to get the children to comprehend the word "lonesome."

For a little time they were stolidly silent.

Then a small boy spoke up.

"I know it, teacher," he said.

"Well, Eddie?"

"Please, teacher, I loan some paper off a boy."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Merely an Investigator.

"Lady," said Plodding Pete, "have you got any cold vittles?"

"Yes. I'll give you some if you'll do a little work."

"I was merely askin' as a matter of scientific inquiry. How do you manage to keep 'em cold?"—Washington Star.

Mistakes In Mexico Draw Us Toward War

By ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE, Former United States Senator From Indiana

Both Mexico and Colorado Problems Industrial Ones

By Rev. GEORGE B. VAN ARSDALE, Central Christian Church, Denver

NO MAN IN THIS COUNTRY WANTS WAR, NOW OR EVER, UNLESS THE PRICE OF PEACE BE NATIONAL HUMILIATION OR NATIONAL DISHONOR. THE MISTAKES IN MEXICAN AFFAIRS MADE DURING THE LAST SIXTEEN MONTHS HAVE STEADILY DRAWN US TOWARD WAR, AND THE PRESENT SITUATION, INSTEAD OF PREVENTING WAR, IS SOWING THE SEEDS OF SERIOUS TROUBLE IN THE FUTURE.

What we need is a policy which will settle things in that distracted country for all time to come. But instead of this we are attempting to COVER AN ACTIVE VOLCANO WITH TISSUE PAPER, and in doing so we are destroying the work of more than a century of American statesmanship.

THE LUST FOR POWER IS THE DIRECT CAUSE FOR THE CONDITIONS IN COLORADO AND IN MEXICO. THE WISE OLD BOOK WE CALL THE BIBLE NEVER WAS MORE TRUE TO FACT THAN WHEN ON ITS EVERY PAGE IT ASCRIBED THE DISTRESS OF THE HUMAN FAMILY TO THE PASSION FOR POWER, WHETHER THAT PASSION ASSERTED ITSELF IN THE LUST FOR GOLD OR SOME OTHER FORM OF DOMINATION.

It is an old story, old as the race and new as our latest upheaval. It is the desire of man to control his fellows. In both Mexico and Colorado the problem is at the bottom essentially an industrial struggle.

LOCAL MAN HEADS NEW $200,000 ENTERPRISE

The Ohio Electrolytic Oxygen Company Incorporates With Mr. A. S. Glascock at Head—Factories to be Located in Cincinnati and Cleveland—Oxygen and Hydrogen Will be Products of New Concern.

A new enterprise in Ohio, with a well known local man, Mr. A. S. Glascock, at the head, has just been incorporated with an authorized capitalization of $200,000, and is to be known as The Ohio Electrolytic Oxygen company, with plants in Cincinnati and Cleveland.

In addition to Mr. Glascock, who will be the head of the company, other men heavily interested in the enterprise are: Joseph F. Verkamp, B. L. Heldingsfeld, J. B. Ratterman and A. B. Chisholm, of Cincinnati.

The company is to manufacture oxygen and hydrogen by a new process with machinery, invented by the Bardette Manufacturing Company, of Chicago, Ill., and the Burdette company furnishes the equipment. Mr. Glascock has the sole rights to manufacture the product in Ohio, and owing to the constantly increasing demand for the two articles, a plant in Cincinnati and one in Cleveland are necessary to produce the oxygen and hydrogen in sufficient amounts to meet the demands.

It is expected that both plants will be constructed, equipped and in operation in the fall. Virtually all of the work will be done by machinery, and the process of obtaining the oxygen and hydrogen is the decomposition of water by means of electrolysis.

The two plants will be the only ones in Ohio, and those interested in the manufacture are said to have prospects of a profitable investment. Mr. Glascock will, in all probability, not move from this city, but will divide his time between the Cincinnati and the Cleveland plants.

The new process was invented by Mr. Byron L. Gifford, formerly of this city, now of Chicago, and who is now at the head of the father company. Mr. Gifford is a brother-in-law of Mr. Glascock.

The use of the two gases is playing a very prominent part in the field of manufacture, and by the new process the products can be produced much cheaper than by any previous invention.

TWO BOXWELL COMMENCEMENTS

The Paint township and Perry township Boxwell commencements will be held Friday night of this week.

The Perry township commencement is to be held in the M. E. church at New Martinsburg, with Rev. Geo. Creamer delivering the class address. The six graduates are being trained by Miss Ada Knedler, one of Perry township's best known teachers. The graduates are: Orville Minton, Hyson Wilson, Marie Patton, Marie Summers, Zelma Binegar and Lois Limes. Price's Orchestra will furnish the music.

The Paint township commencement is to be held in Union Chapel, at Yatesville, and the class is made up of 12 graduates.

PLANS ARE READY FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Architect J. Howard Hicks has finished plans and specifications for the new $15,000 school building in Clarksburg, and for the new school building near Cochran church south of town.

The Clarksburg building is to be 44 by 74 feet, two stories, and work is to begin within thirty days and be finished by early winter.

The new structure south of town is to cost $3,000 and is to be a frame building, 28 by 40 feet. It is to be erected and ready for occupancy by fall.

one of his own compositions, "Oh Gee Whiz, I've Got the Rheumatiz", and he was forced to repeat it before the pleased auditors would allow him to depart.

Another popular feature of the program was the singing of the Elks' quartet, composed of Messrs. Horace Ireland, Howard Allen, L. L. Bowman and R. R. Kibler.

Following came the concluding feature of the evening, a moving picture exhibition in charge of Charles Johnson and the appropriateness of the film, an educational reel showing the manner in which Decoration Day is observed at the National cemetery, was an artistic finishing touch to an evening of complete enjoyment.

During the banquet and throughout the evening music was furnished by Horstman and Ramsey.

SUDDEN DEATH BY DROWNING

Mrs. W. E. Sturgeon, south of town, received the startling news Tuesday morning that her nephew, Mr. Walter Foulke, had been drowned at his home in Washington state. No particulars were given, but knowing that Mr. Foulke held a position on a steamer, it is supposed his death resulted from some steamer accident.

The sudden death is particularly tragic as the young man, who is about 27 years of age, was to have been married the 20th of this month. His sweetheart starts east with the body as soon as it can be found.

The parents of the deceased resided in Greenfield until a year ago, when they moved to a farm near Cincinnati. They have many relatives and friends in this city who are learning of the fatality with deepest sympathy. The son had not been home for a number of years.

Mrs. Sturgeon's sister, Mrs. Iva Markley, went through here from her home in Columbus enroute to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foulke Tuesday, but Mrs. Sturgeon will not go down until further word is received.

SECOND SUIT FILED AGAINST RAILROAD

Solicitor Pope Gregg Tuesday morning filed another suit in the Common Pleas court in which the city of Washington makes the B. & O. railroad defendant in an action to appropriate property owned by the B. & O. for the purpose of opening Grace and Pearl streets.

The plaintiff asks that a jury be empaneled to fix the compensation for the lands required for the street crossings.

LABORER APPLIES FOR COMPENSATION

Charles A. Rutter, of Gregg street, who had one hand injured a few days ago while employed in the work of building approaches to the new bridge on the Oakland avenue extension, has applied to the State Industrial Commission for compensation for injuries received and loss of time. His application was forwarded to the department this week.

MAIL CARRIER SUES COUNTY

L. M. Maag, who has the contract for carrying the mail to and from the railroads in this city, has filed suit against the county commissioners in which he asks damages in the sum of $1,075 as a result of injuries sustained January 23, 1914, and for the death of a horse, which he valued at $75.

Plaintiff states that there is a large open ditch which runs in front of the Maag premises on Elm street, opposite St. Colman's cemetery, and that the commissioners have charge of the ditch. He states that it has been necessary for him to bridge the ditch, and that upon the morning in question while leaving his home at an early hour, the horse lunged forward and the rig was upset, hurling plaintiff, horse and rig into the ditch injuring the horse so that it was necessary to kill it and injuring the plaintiff to the extent of $1,000.

MEMOIR.
Milton Davis Noble, son of J. H. and Lavena Noble, was born near New Holland, Ohio, February 2, 1859 and died at his home on South Fayette street, Washington C. H., June 12, 1914, after twelve years of suffering from sarcoma cancer, from which he underwent 14 operations, an affliction which he bore uncomplainingly. Never heard to murmur nor complain. He was united in marriage July 9, 1880, to Miss Lotie May, who died June 17, 1895, after living happily together for 15 years. Again united in marriage to his now bereaved widow, Miss Winnie C. Cooper, January 11, 1910. Unto this union was born two sons, Milton Davis and George Marion, who with four brothers and two sisters are left to mourn the loss of a kind husband, loving father and affectionate brother.

He joined the first Baptist church of this city, April, 1910. He talked and left a bright assurance that all was well.

The Vanishing Woods.

Hamilton county is very much in need of a little well-directed conservation. We still have a larger wooded area than any of the other big-city counties in Ohio. But the woods are being cut down at an alarming rate. If something is not done the once beautiful hills of southwestern Ohio will presently glare at the human beings who have mistreated them, as bare and useless as the eroded hills of China, which have so long served as a horrible example of what befalls a nation which refuses to practice conservation.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

LOCAL MEN GET RIDE IN WAGON

Victims of Circumstances Have Exciting Experiences in Columbus and Embarrassment is Further Increased by the Finding of a Gun on One Man.

It happened a night or two ago. Two well known residents had planned an evening's entertainment in the Capitol city. All would have been well had it not been for the "happy thought" experienced by one of the men, who, before cranking his machine for the journey, ran into the business house of a friend and borrowed a revolver with the parting explanation that "its best to be prepared."

Arriving in Columbus the pair had barely parked their car when they were attracted by the screams of a woman and the gathering of a crowd on one of the city's main streets and, not to miss the excitement, ran to the scene of activity and joined the crowd, simultaneously with two policemen. No sooner had they done so than an hysterical woman who occupied the center of the circle, turned upon them with a shriek and pointing a trembling finger cried out, "There they are! They did it!"

Vainly protesting, the local men were seized by the police and hurried into the "wagon." In due time they arrived at police court, then's when things started. A search of the prisoners brought to light the "pepper box" and in the subsequent excitement the Fayette countians experienced the closest brush with penal servitude of their lives.

How they got out of it has not been learned, but they are home again and there is no record of a case against them. It is claimed that the men had nothing to do with the trouble on the street, but were merely the victims of circumstances, brought about by the hysterical woman, who accused the first persons she saw of causing the accident on the street.

In Social Circles

Flag Day never fails to arouse the patriotism of the Daughters of the American Revolution and a large attendance of loyal Daughters gathered at the home of Mrs. Robert Howat Monday afternoon for its celebration. The Howat place, suggesting as it does in its spacious arrangement and large grounds Colonial days, provided ideal setting for the gathering on this significant day, and national colors, draped the pillars of the immense veranda, while flags floated out over the lawn.

Flowers added fragrance and beauty, one especially beautiful vase of blue larkspur and white lilies, with big bow of crimson ribbon completing the color scheme of red, white and blue, many of the flowers were sent from Mrs. R. S. Quinn's flower gardens.

It was pre-eminently a social afternoon, bringing to a pleasurable close a satisfactory year in the chapter and leaving an afterglow of enjoyable remembrance.

The guests were seated on the lawn for a summer collation and a huge bowl of punch was served under a spreading tree all afternoon.

A victrola concert of beautiful records, many of them patriotic, offered varied delight.

The outgoing regent, Miss Florence Ogle, who has filled the office with much grace and dignity, asked the attention of the Daughters for a brief business session.

It was decided by the chapter that the officers of the past year hold over until the new officers take their places in October.

The newly elected regent, Mrs. Emma Brown Morris, announced as her committee for program and general work, Mrs. Eva Craig, Miss Florence Ogle, Mrs. Ray Maynard, Mrs. Olive Hadley Sprenger, Mrs. Jane Todhunter.

Mrs. E. F. Kinnear, of Columbus, and Mrs. Simmons, of Greenfield, and Miss Grace Van Winkle, of Hamilton, were non-resident members of the local chapter present, and Mrs. Blaine, of Canton, O., a visiting member.

A host of friends are learning with interest and surprise that Miss Lulu Henkle and Mr. George L. Sheets, of Middletown, were married at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. John W. Shoop (nee Ruth Perrill) in Chicago, Saturday evening, June 6th. The young couple were planning to wed in the early autumn, but when Mr. Sheets joined Miss Henkle, who was visiting relatives in Chicago, everything seemed so opportune for an earlier ceremony, that it was hurriedly arranged.

Rev. Bebe, of the Methodist church, officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sheets visited in Chicago until Tuesday, when they left for Middletown remaining through the week.

Mr. Sheets accompanied his bride to her home in this city, where she will remain until a desirable house can be secured in Middletown and housekeeping arrangements made.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Henkle, a bright, attractive girl, and a talented musician. Mr. Sheets is advertising manager for the American Rolling Mills, Middletown, and one of the rising young business men of that city.

The young couple are receiving the best wishes of many friends in both cities.

Miss Pearl Minton entertained Monday afternoon with a delightful Kensington at her home in Millwood. A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations and a dainty repast served.

Mrs. O. C. Minton assisted her daughter.

The guests were: Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, of Mt. Sterling; Mesdames Viola Brakefield, A. J. Cline, Hurtt and Lee Hurtt, Misses Florence Olinger, Ella Henkle, Vada Brakefield, Frances Howland, Lulu Binger.

In compliment to her guests, Misses Nina Steinbrook, Iselwise and Dorothy DeVore of New Lexington; Miss Luella Riley gave a Kensington Tuesday afternoon.

It was a very attractive affair of the June season, with crimson ramblers in gorgeous bloom and the noted gardens of Fayette nursery most inviting under the bluest of skies.

A delicious luncheon was served, Mrs. J. N. Riley, Mrs. W. H. Dial, Misses Sallie Dial and Vera Veal assisting.

Tonight Miss Riley gives an informal little garden party, at which Mr. George Barton, of New Lexington, will also be an honor guest.

NEW Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY IS FROM SPRINGFIELD, O.

Mr. Walter Patton, Educational Secretary of the Springfield Association, Last Night, Accepts Offer of Local Y. M. C. A. Trustees and Will Take Up Work Within Next Few Weeks—Comes Highly Recommended.

Mr. Walter Patton, present educational secretary of the Springfield, Ohio, Y. M. C. A., will be the next general secretary of the local association to take the place vacated by Mr. Ray F. Zaner. Mr. Zaner's resignation went into effect Monday, but it is probable that he will look after the secretaryship of the Y. M. C. A. until relieved by Mr. Patton which will be within the next few weeks.

The installation of a new secretary has been a matter of keen interest to the populace of Washington and Fayette county, as so much depends on the further conduct of the institution for which its men and women have put up such a brave and successful struggle to save, and the fact that the board of trustees has secured a man so well recommended as Mr. Patton, will come as a relief to the expectant thousands.

Mr. Patton is a young man, and unmarried. He has been associated with Y. M. C. A. work for several years. During a period reaching over four years, in which he has looked after the educational interests of the Springfield association, he has made a splendid record as the books and officials of that organization eloquently testify. The successful educational classes during that time many in number and under his supervision, are a pride in the home city, and his success there is a good recommendation.

A native of Yellow Springs, O., near Xenia, and a graduate of Antioch and Muksumung colleges, Mr. Patton has spent the greater part of his life in this community, and is not unknown here. He is especially remembered among the young men as the coach of the crack Springfield High school football eleven of 1912, which made such a showing here.

It is with general and sincere regret that the public is called on to witness the departure of Mr. Zaner who has made many friends in his work here. It is with satisfaction, however, that the public received his announcement that his new duties in the insurance field will keep him among Washington people a great deal of his time.

Information coming from the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. late Tuesday afternoon is to the effect that Mr. Zaner will sever his official connection with the institution as soon as he has completed his audit of the Association's books, which will be in a few days. From that time until Mr. Patton assumes his duties the work of the Association will be looked after by Physical Director McClung and Mr. Frank Toops.

Mrs. James Summers is visiting in Williamsport.

Postmaster John Culhan and daughter, Mary Alice, went to Dayton Tuesday morning to attend the commencement at St. Mary's college. Mrs. Culhan's nephew, John Hogan, son of Attorney General Timothy Hogan, is one of the graduates.

Mrs. Frank E. Haines and Mrs. John King spent Monday in Columbus. Mrs. King remaining over Tuesday.

Miss Iselwise and Dorothy DeVore of New Lexington; Mr. George Barton, of Ashtabula, are the guests of Miss Luella Riley, of the Bogus road.

Mr. Chas. Gardner made a business trip to Columbus Monday.

Miss Nelle Ireland is entertaining two O. W. U. classmates, Miss Ella Clemmens, of Mechanicsburg, and Miss Lucile Aigler, of Van Wert.

Miss Ruth Sheldon, of Columbus, who has been Miss Louise Weaver's guest, is spending a few days with Miss Hilda Kyle before returning to her home.

Mrs. Ione Bryant entertained Mrs. Emma Peiffer, the first of the week, spending Monday in Columbus.

Miss Minnie Leisure and Miss Anne Deitrick of Dayton, were the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Brooks Hughey, over Sunday.

Love of the Forest.

The only way to love the forest is to stay in it until you have learned its pathless travel, growth and inhabitants as you know the fields. You must begin at the gate and find your way slowly, else you will not hear the great secret and see the compelling vision. There are trees you never before have seen, flowers and vines the botanists fail to mention and such music as your ears cannot hear elsewhere. —Gene Stratton Porter.

ARMISTICE DOES NOT SUIT REBELS

Will Not Be Represented at the Peace Conference.

MEDIATORS WILL STAND PAT

Determined Not to Admit Carranza Delegates Unless the Constitution-ists Agree to Cessation of Hostilities in Mexico—Compromise Suggested at the National Capital, Deadlock at Niagara Falls.

Washington, June 16.—Hopes for the admission of Carranza's delegates to the mediation conferences faded still more when it became known that the mediators will stand pat on their refusal to admit them unless an armistice is agreed upon.

It was stated positively by members of the Constitutionalist junta that no representatives of Carranza will go to Niagara Falls except as fully empowered delegates to represent him at the conferences. It has been hinted by these authorities before that possibly Senors Cabrera and Vasconcelos might be present at Niagara Falls to advise and consult with the Americans and Huerta delegates, though not to take part in the conferences in which the A. B. C. powers were represented. Instructions have been received from Carranza forbidding this course. Senors Vasconcelos and Cabrera are now in New York.

NO MENTION OF ARMISTICE

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 16.—General Carranza's long expected note arrived here. It contains the announcement that the Mexican rebel leader has appointed three delegates to the mediation conference, Fernando Calderon, Luis Cabrera and Jose Vasconcelos.

To this message the three mediators at once replied by informing General Carranza that his message contains no reference to the paragraph in their previous note relating to the declaration of an armistice. It was pointed out that the rebel leader merely reiterates statements made previously, that he is careful to mention only the "international conflict" as a subject to be discussed here.

The mediators' reply is another substantiation of the assertion made repeatedly that the three South American envoys have not receded from their original stand. They will not receive the Constitutionalist delegates officially until an armistice has been declared.

No progress has been made in the mediation proceedings. The delegates are deadlocked over the selection of a provisional president, and persons who are close to the Mexican delegates say that the situation will remain unchanged until the Washington government decides to change its attitude.

WANTS TAXES REDUCED.

GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX.

Governor Cox is about to call an extra session of the legislature to reduce the state tax levy, owing to the fact that the new Warnes law has increased the state tax duplicate one thousand million dollars. The tax levy made by the last legislature, if allowed to stand, would bring to the state one million dollars, and this Governor Cox wishes to avoid by cutting the levy. All county auditors have been ordered to hold in abeyance the state levy, pending a change by the legislature.

TROGLDYTES OF TRIPOLI.

They Live Underground, Some of Them Never Seeing Daylight.

In the region of Gharian, in the hinterland of Tripoli, there is an invisible town with 7,000 inhabitants. This city of the Troglodytes was visited by Miss Ethel Braun and is described by her in her book, "The New Tripoli."

This city is excavated out of rock and earth. Its inhabitants live underground, some of them never coming to the surface. "The richer ones," writes Miss Braun, "are born in these dim dwellings, never leaving them until they are carried out to be buried." The rich families have, however, one reception room over the ground at a height of six or seven feet.

Describing the Troglodyte prison, Miss Braun tells of an Italian lady's experience while visiting the female prisoners.

"They had never seen a European woman before and asked her to take off her hat. No sooner had she done so than in a twinkling all her hairpins were pulled out, to be kept as souvenirs by the women, who looked upon them as most precious mementos."

The friendly Troglodytes made Arab tea for Miss Braun, "shai, as it is called, made with powdered tea and much, very much, sugar, so that it tastes just like a sirup," and they were very excited at the event of her visit.

Her Candlestine Courtship.

The servant was discussing her latest love affair with a mistress, who was humane enough to be interested. "Well," said the mistress, "since you've been going out with him for months, I think it's quite time he took you to see his parents."

"I've been telling him so, ma'am. Only last Sunday I said to him, 'Herbert, I'm not going to be courted in this candlestine way any longer.'"

It was some time, says the Manchester Guardian, before the mistress' puzzled brain understood that "candlestine" and "clandestine" were synonymous.

Knew He Was Safe.

"You seem to be going home in a very cheerful manner for a man who has been out all night."

"Yes. You see, my wife is an amateur elocutionist, and she's saving her voice for an entertainment tomorrow night."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NICE MESS FOR PROBE

Chilton and Overman Blame Employees and Seek Inquiry.

Washington, June 16.—Steps were taken in the senate toward an official investigation of the exploitation of a North Carolina gold mine on the let-terheads of two of the senate committees. Both Senator Overman of North Carolina and Senator Chilton of West Virginia, who own stock in the mine and whose employees are blamed for the use of the senate stationery, asked for an investigation. Senator Overman introduced a resolution authorizing the employment of a special committee of five senators.

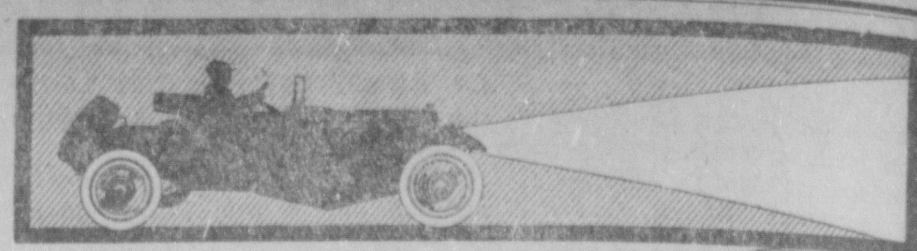

Before either of the senators had acted, however, Senator LaFollette had served emphatic notice that he would present such a resolution and would urge its adoption by the senate. In fact the resolution presented was the one drawn by Mr. LaFollette. The senator from Wisconsin had yielded in favor of Mr. Overman after Senator Chilton had told him that if such a resolution was to be submitted he ought to permit it to come from him (Chilton) or from Mr. Overman. The inquiry will include not only the use of the senate stationery, but also the sending of an employee of the treasury department at government expense to the North Carolina property for the purpose of investigating the mine.

FEARED WRATH

Fremont, O., June 16.—Granting a motion made by attorneys for the defense, Judge Young of Norwalk ordered the trial of Herman King, charged with slaying 30 horses in the west end of the county, held in Sandusky, Erie county, next week. In asking the venue change attorneys for King argued that feeling against the man is so strong that infuriated farmers might do him bodily harm.

MRS. EVANS, NOTED SOCIAL REFORMER

AMONG those prominent in the recent demonstration in behalf of woman suffrage, at the National Capital, Mrs. Glendower Evans, the noted social reform advocate of Boston, occupied a place of honor. Introducing her to a capital audience a well known citizen of Washington told of coming down town one morning to find what appeared to be a riot, fight or fire at the intersection of Eighth and F streets, where a great crowd was congregated, blocking travel. Moved by curiosity the motor was driven over into the crowd, when it was found that the trouble

THE CHAUTAUQUA AND THE COMMUNITY.

The Chautauqua is a town builder. It centers community interests and develops commercial progress by bringing about a closer sympathy and understanding between the merchant and the farmer. It has a tendency to unite factions and cliques in the ordinary town and city. Hundreds of people come to town Chautauqua week. They are pleased and delighted. They go home happy, therefore the town has made a favorable impression upon them—and they continue to visit the town.

The "boosters" of our town are bringing the Chautauqua. We should "boost" them.

CURIOUS MEXICAN TREES.

One Whose Fruit Is the Counterpart of the Green Parrot.

Mexico probably has a greater range of remarkable vegetation than any other country in the world. The parrot fruit tree produces an odd shaped fruit, bearing a close resemblance to green parakeets. When the parakeet is frightened it makes a dash for the parrot tree, where it assumes a position which makes it look like the fruit itself. So close is the resemblance that their enemies, the hawks, occasionally fly by a tree on which a dozen or more of these birds are sitting, apparently unaware of their presence.

Another remarkable tree is the arbol de dinamite—dynamite tree—whose fruit, if kept in a warm place, bursts with considerable force and a loud report, scattering its flat seeds to a surprising distance.

One of the most interesting fruits in Mexico is known as the melon zapote, or papaya. It contains considerable pepsin, which reacts against both acid and alkaline conditions of the stomach, and it is said that a diet which includes papaya precludes dyspepsia. Both the fruit and the leaves possess the singular property of rendering tough meat tender. When the pulp of the fruit is rubbed over a piece of tough meat the juice attacks the fiber and softens it.—National Geographic Magazine.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Sluggish Liver.

Cheerfulness and a sluggish liver can't exist together in the same man. Although it might not perhaps be correct to say that the morbid states of mind have their origin in the liver, they are unquestionably, in many instances, accompanied and aggravated by derangement of this organ, and it is equally true that, independently of either hypochondriasis or melancholia, persons with "sluggish livers" are subject to fits of great depression of spirits and often groundless fears of impending danger which cease when the liver is restored to its normal state.

Irritability of temper is another common symptom of a sluggish liver and is sometimes the first indication of anything wrong. To overcome the difficulty, stop eating for a day or two, take exercise and if necessary a few doses of a good saline laxative.

If you are not cheerful in a few days consult your family physician.

He Enjoyed It.

Mrs. Bacon: So you and your husband went to the musicale?
Mrs. Egbert: Oh, yes.
"Did you enjoy it?"

"What's that?" cried the new doctor in the nursing camp. "You say you have 'shooting pains' in your back. Why, you're wounded, man."
"That's what I said—'shooting pains,'" said Private Pete—Judge.

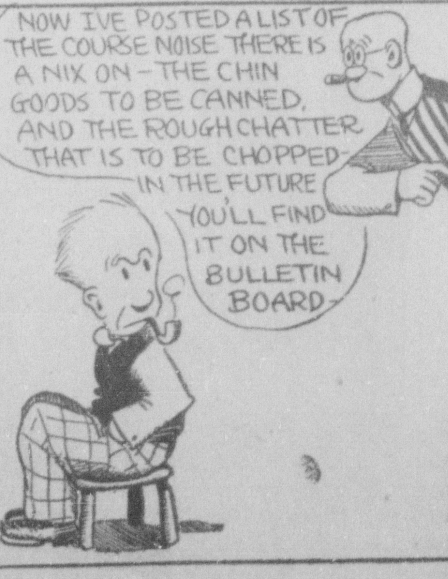

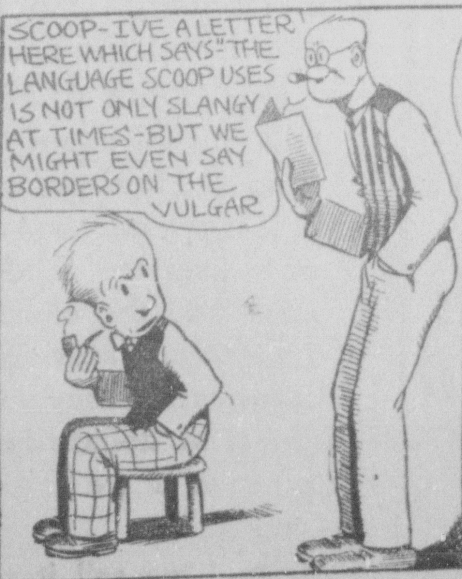

John, whose father was a baker, was in the habit of bringing his teacher a fresh pretzel each day. "I wish you would tell your father not to make them so salty," she once said, laughing. Thereafter the shiny brown delicacy, always minus the salt, was found frequently on her desk. "It's very kind of your father to make one on purpose for me," she told him. "Oh," was the startling reply, "he don't make them that way. I lick the salt off."

C. H. & D. REOPENS WORK ON NEW FREIGHT DEPOT

Long Delayed Improvement is to be Rushed Through Without Delay, According to Announcement Made Today—Quarter of Hundred Local Laborers to be Employed.

The C. H. & D. Railroad company is to begin at once on the work of building the new freight depot and railroad yards in this city, and are anxious to obtain 25 laborers in this city to assist in the work until it is completed. It is understood that the company pays $1.75 per day for labor.

Work on the new freight depot was suspended several weeks ago when the city council delayed definite action on the franchise ordinance asked by the company. At that time the company started when the application was made for a franchise, and when it was not railroaded through council, all work was suspended pending final action.

Material, which was on hand for the improvement, was shipped elsewhere, and went into another improvement on the road. No move was made toward resuming the work until what was deemed a stumbling block was removed when council, at a special meeting, changed part of the ordinance, eliminating that clause providing for two watchmen at the street crossings.

Tuesday it was announced that the work would be resumed at once, and material will be shipped here for the new freight depot and new tracks, so that little delay in completing the improvement, is anticipated.

No material changes will be made on the original plans of the depot, it is claimed, and the structure will be located west of Main street, with the team tracks, or freight yards, between Main and North streets.

When the improvement is completed it will fill a want which has been keenly felt by local shippers for more than a half score of years, and the freight facilities are expected to equal those of any road in the city.

CAMDEN SUCCEEDS BRADLEY

By Associated Press.

Frankfort, Ky., June 1.—Governor McCreary today signed the commission of Johnson N. Camden, of Versailles, as United States senator from Kentucky to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Senator W. O. Bradley. Mr. Camden will serve until November when a senator will be elected to fill out Bradley's term which expires March 4, 1915. Senator Camden is expected to leave immediately for Washington.

John N. Camden was born January 5, 1865, at Parkersburg, W. Va., the son of J. N. Sr., and Anne Thompson Camden. His father was one of the developers of coal, gas and traction interests in his native state, and was United States Senator from West Virginia from 1881 to 1887, and from 1893 to 1895. J. N. Camden, Jr., was educated at Phillips Andover Academy and the Virginia Military Academy at Lexington, Va., afterward attending the Columbia Law School, New York City. He entered upon his active business career with the Ohio River Railroad, a line built by his father. Later he became president of a railroad construction company which built the Monongahela River Railroad.

He came to Kentucky in 1890, purchased a country estate of 1600 acres near Versailles and became a breeder of thoroughbred horses. Many racing horses that became noted on the tracks were bred at "Springhill." Later he was associated with John C. C. Mayo and C. W. Watson in Eastern Kentucky development companies. Mr. Camden holds offices in coal companies at Versailles, Ky., Parkersburg, W. Va., and New York and is a director in banks at Parkersburg and Lexington; and of the Parkersburg, Marietta and Interurban Railroad company. He was one of the chief figures in assembling the electrical railroad properties in Ashland, Kentucky, Huntington, W. Va., and Ironton, Ohio, known as the Camden Interstate Railway, of which he was the first president.

Mr. Camden entered politics in 1911. He served on both the executive and financial committees of the democratic party in that year. He is a member of the State Racing Commission, recently appointed, and was largely instrumental in securing the passage of the bill providing for such a commission in Kentucky.

Mr. Camden was married in 1889 to Miss Susanna Preston Hart, of Woodford county, Ky. They have two daughters.

Over 3,000 Candy Makers

Are turning out Ohio candy, in one hundred and fourteen candy factories of the state. And candy making is by no means a leading industry of Ohio. Do you know what the biggest factories of the state ARE making, and how many men it takes to keep them going? How many proprietors, how many clerks, and how many wage earners? It is interesting to read about, and it might be pretty useful, too. You must do business, directly or indirectly, with some of those factories, and their industry concerns you.

Our OHIO ALMANAC, just issued for 1914, tells you all about the manufacturing business of Ohio, the business of farming, the schools, the religious organizations, the population, the platforms of the various political parties, the officials of the state and the counties, and about 100,000 other interesting facts about your state. Useful bits of information they are, too, that would cost you hundreds of dollars in time and cash to find out for yourself if we had not gathered it all together for you.

And we sell it to you for 25c at our office, or 30c by mail, postpaid.
